

A comparison between the various theories behind the causes for the COVID-19 coronavirus out-break.

When confronted with different theories, scientists use a system of analysis to determine which theory has the most merit. This is a deductive reasoning process, and one that is used daily by engineers all over the globe. You look at all the theories, you provide weighed analysis and come up with the “best fit” theory for a given situation. Here, we will apply it to the COVID-19 coronavirus outbreak during the 2020 CNY new year.

Currently there are four theories on the origin and causes for the COVID-19 coronavirus. They are;

- Natural. The virus sprung up naturally.
- Bioweapon – The Chinese stole it from America (CIA narrative).
- Bioweapon developed by China to kill Chinese (CIA narrative).
- Bioweapon used by the Trump Administration to suppress China.

You will note that of the four theories, two of them are from the American CIA. Both of those two theories originated from Radio Free Asia; a (former) CIA operation outsourced, but still run by, the head of the CIA.

... upon further examination of the sourcing for this serious claim,(That the Chinese biological lab in Wuhan released this bioweapon)...

... the first outlet to report on this claim was Radio Free Asia, the U.S.-government funded media outlet targeting Asian audiences that used to be run covertly by the CIA and named by the New York Times as a key part in the agency's "worldwide propaganda network."

Though it is no longer run directly by the CIA, it is now managed by the government-funded Broadcasting Board of Governors (BBG), which answers directly to Secretary of State Mike Pompeo, who was CIA director immediately prior to his current post at the head of the State Department.

In other words, Radio Free Asia and other BBG-managed media outlets are legal outlets for U.S. government propaganda.

(But why not the CIA directly?)

Notably, the long-standing ban on the domestic use of U.S. government propaganda on U.S. citizens was lifted in 2013, with the official justification of allowing the government to "effectively communicate in a credible way" and to better combat "al-Qaeda's and other violent extremists' influence."

If you pay attention to the American media you will aware of the the first three theories. The fourth theory, the idea that the biological weapon was used as an on-going suppression as part of the Trump Trade War is noticeably absent.

Seeing that the American government controls all American media; [1] Mainstream, [2] Alt-Left and [3] Alt-Right, this omission should tell you (the reader) something.

The analysis

Below is a comparison matrix. Scientists, and engineers will recognize this table immediately. It is used all the time and is very helpful in determining the “price points” to set on new products, the comparative benefits and pitfalls of a given production decision, as well of the merits of an investment decision.

At the top of the table you can see the four theories presented. While on the left side you can see all the circumstances that contribute to the theories as presented.

Another Opinion

You all do not have to come to the same conclusion that I have. Other people have come to similar conclusions. Here's one...

If the current state of global affairs reminds you of an over-the-top plot by a white-cat-stroking James Bond villain, you're not far off. When it comes to nuclear policy, we are closer than ever to a real-life movie disaster.

- By Olivia Alperstein

America has a president that is currently using biological weapons against it's economic foes instead of trying to make peace treaties. As well as deploying "low yield" nuclear weapons across the entire spectrum of the Armed Forces.

To me it seems like anything is possible with this President. And, that is quite scary.

Conclusion

A theory comparison matrix clearly shows that the circumstances supporting a biological weapon release by America...

... in support of the Trump Trade Wars...

... is by far (by a factor of three times) the most plausible theory regarding the origination of this event.

I take no great satisfaction in support of this conclusion. Instead, I am petrified by it. For it means that the Trump administration is actively using weapons of mass destruction against the civilians of a nuclear-armed nation and is not expecting any consequences for doing it.

Either the administration are idiots or they are evil. No other answer is possible.

I hope you are all ready to pay the price for this malfeasance.

Final note.

Oh, and by the way...

Fun Fact: China and Russia have been giving everyone smallpox vaccinations for decades now. While America stopped doing so in the early 1970's.

When was the smallpox vaccine discontinued in the United States?

Because of vaccination programs and quarantine regulations, the risk of importation of smallpox into the United States was reduced by the 1960s.

As a result, routine vaccine vaccination was discontinued in 1971.
