

The coronvirus outbreak was suspiciously timed to coincide with the Chinese New Year mass migration.

Perhaps the first thing that triggered my thoughts that the cronovirus attack in Wuhan was a biological weapon event was the suspicious timing of it...

... and the absolutely absurd complete shutdown of the 2020 CNY holiday.

Have you the reader ever heard of an entire nation canceling Christmas and ordering everyone to stay at home and not go out? It's amazing, unique and horrifying.

Well...

...that's what happened.

Of course, those in America and out West haven't a clue as to what this means. Perhaps this graph will illustrate my point.

Plot of coronavirus infections over time overlayed with the yearly Chinese New Year mass migration.

This is a graph showing the trajectory when only a precious few people were infected.

Imagine what would have happened if the Chinese government would have not taken direct and immediate action.

What if...

Here's what it looks like if they delayed action by two days, and all of China are having parties, drinking, eating and having fun with each other...

What if scenario... China delays DEFCON ONE following the SARS model. Two day delay.

This scenario is what would have happened if China delayed going to DEFCON ONE by two days. The infection trajectory goes ballistic.

So, people, my argument is that there is no such thing as a coincidence.

This illness was intentionally timed to exert maximum damage on China.

If that is not bad enough...

... were China to delay their response by a mere two days, the nation would have been completely devastated and neutered by this illness.

What it is like.

This is what it is like...

You read the news reports, and suddenly you aren't feeling good. You report it to the 119 (9-1-1 emergency line) and an ambulance comes to pick you up.

You are a little nervous after all that you read...

...and then you see the hospital reception for you...

What it is like.
